Showing door open, Perfectlite not in use. Note how the Perfectlite hinge lays snugly against the back of the door, out of the way, but ready for instant use.

PERFECTLITE --- THE CABINET WITH THE ADJUSTABLE MIRROR

PATENTS APPLIED FOR

THE illustrations below graphically describe the construction of the Perfectlite Cabinet and give an idea of the many advantages to which an adjustable mirror on a medicine cabinet can be put. - - - The primary purpose of a mirror is to reflect, but proper reflection cannot be had unless the mirror is in the correct position to pick up the light rays, artificial or natural. This, Perfectlite the Adjustable Mirror Cabinet does with ease. Swinging to practically any angle, catching the best light, it adjusts itself to the convenience of the user. It gives to the medicine cabinet the advantages of the dressing table and hand mirror. The extended hinge arrangement on which the mirror swings is concealed from view when the door is closed, is sturdily built and cannot get out of order or alignment.

Here the mirror is extended straight out from the cabinet and is in position to be turned either right or left to catch the best light reflection.

Thousands of Columbia Perfectlite Cabinets are now in use, giving satisfaction and convenience to the user. The additional cost of the Perfectlite arrangement on a Columbia Cabinet is small, and is far outweighed by the added usefulness to which the cabinet can be put.

Convenient access to the contents of the cabinet is obtained with the mirror in use at the same time.

The above illustrates a Chromium Frame Cabinet with the Perfectlite feature.

THIS illustrates cabinet No. 10 BP with the Perfectlite feature. It is priced exceptionally low, makes a beautiful installation and is in great demand.
